Deterministic modeling process is presented in the context of linear programs (LP). LP models are easy to solve computationally and have a wide range of applications in diverse fields. This site provides solution algorithms and the needed sensitivity analysis since the solution to a practical problem is not complete with the mere determination of the optimal solution.

Box and Cox (1964) developed the transformation. Estimation of any Box-Cox parameters is by maximum likelihood. Box and Cox (1964) offered an example in which the data had the form of survival times but the underlying biological structure was of hazard rates, and the transformation identified this.

X-ray crystallography is a technique used for determining the atomic and molecular structure of a crystal, in which the crystalline structure causes a beam of incident X-rays to diffract into many specific directions. By measuring the angles and intensities of these diffracted beams, a crystallographer can produce a three-dimensional picture of the density of electrons within the crystal.
