In art. 15 of the EWC Directive (94/45/EC) the European Commission bound itself to pursue a review of the directive by 1999. In April 2004, almost five years after the deadline set out in the Directive itself, the European Commission officially started the review of the European Works Council (EWC) Directive. In its communication, the Commission emphasised the positive contribution that EWCs ...

The workforce or labour force (labor force in American English; see spelling differences) is the labour pool in employment. It is generally used to describe those working for a single company or industry, but can also apply to a geographic region like a city, state, or country. Within a company, its value can be labelled as its "Workforce in Place". The workforce of a country includes both the ...
